FOOD IN SORROW.

HOW TO LIGHTEN THE BURDEN.

"Who feeds his body starves his grief." There may be heart wounds difficult to heal but a well fed healthy body and mind softens the trouble greatly. A lady of Homer, Ill., says: "About a year ago my dear little four year old boy met with an accident which resulted in his death, and the anxiety and grief and worry that I experienced while watching his suffering and death resulted in my having nervous prostration. I could neither eat nor sleep and I was soon a total, miserable wreck, sick enough to die. "Then I was put on Grape Nuts food taking a half teaspoonful at a meal; the amount was gradually increased until I could eat about three teaspoonfuls at a time. I began to improve almost immediately gaining strength steadily day by day until now I have entirely regained health and am well throughout. "Of course my sorrow will never entirely leave me, although they say time heals all wounds, but I am glad to be strong again mentally and physically for I can bear my burden better. I feel confident that if I had not used Grape Nuts I would never have been well again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS.

In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Kentucky, in Bankruptcy. In the matter of Ferry E. Weaver, bankrupt.

To the creditors of Ferry E. Weaver of Paducah, in the county of McCracken and district aforesaid, a bankrupt: Notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1903, the said Ferry E. Weaver was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at my office in Paducah, McCracken county, Kentucky, on the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1903, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claim, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may come properly before said meeting. EMMET W. BAGBY, Referee in Bankruptcy. Paducah, Ky., July 20, 1903.

Thought He Was Again in Durand. Capt. Cosgrove, who was recently retired from the fire department, tells this story of "Grand Central Pete," one of the noted criminals of New York. Having been released from prison, friends of "Pete," who had spent a portion of his life in such institutions, welcomed him at the railway station and proceeded to celebrate the occasion. "Pete," not having had any liquor during his term, was soon affected by what he drank, and, after a time, his companions had to take him to a hotel and put him to bed. In the course of the night "Pete" became restless and tumbled out of bed, and rolling around on the floor finally got under the bed. When he awoke it was broad daylight. Glancing up, he saw the slats of the bed, and to his sleepy eyes they reminded him of something familiar. "Hello, I'm back again!" he exclaimed. "Gee, this is sudden!"—New York Times.

The boat Antoinette was sold at Evansville by Capt. Charles McNutt to Swallow & Markle, who own a floating opera. Price, $7,000. The boat is on the Illinois river. Capt. McNutt is building a new towboat at Morgantown, to cost $10,000.

In a quiet way Capt. Wm. Rollins, the veteran pilot, yesterday celebrated the 77th anniversary of his birth. He was born within three miles of Paducah and since 11 years old has lived in Paducah, with the exception of three months he lived at Smithland. Capt. Rollins retired from active service only a few years ago, and is still unusually active for a man of his years.

He is one of the best story tellers in the city and his memory is remarkable. Needless to say, Capt. Rollins has countless friends, who wish him many returns.

Local steamboatmen are discussing the advisability of promoting a new steamboat company to build a boat on plans designed by J. F. Deppa, for many years an engineer with the Missouri river, says the Globe-Democrat.

The plans are for a large-sized freight boat, with a railroad track in the middle of the lower deck, on which cars may be run to receive or discharge goods directly from and to the boat. The boat is also provided with ample hoisting apparatus. The designs are now in possession of George Derrickson of the Derrickson & Ray boat store.
